

SAFEGUARDING POLICY

Definition of Safeguarding:

Hari Welfare Association introduces safeguarding policy to protect, people with whom it works or whomever work for HWA-Pakistan, from any form of harm, bullying, harassment, exploitation, abuse, neglect or any other act that may cause injury or suffering.

Scope and Application of Safeguarding Policy:

The safeguarding policy is applicable to everyone concerned or related to HWA-Pakistan in any way but not limited to its staff, grantees, partners, associates, board members, beneficiaries, program participants, volunteers, vendors, consultants, interns, resource persons, or whosoever connected with organization one way or the other.

The safeguarding policy is applicable to be part of terms and conditions / clauses, in all contracts with partner organizations, vendors, staff, interns and consultants etc.

The safeguarding policy especially protects vulnerable groups like women, children, people living with disability, sexual minorities, religious minorities, young people, scheduled castes, survivors of gender-based violence and other socially excluded groups.

This safeguarding policy is, therefore, fundamental to Hari Welfare Association's professional integrity. In addition, it reinforces the value that it places on all people associated with Hari Welfare Association to feel protected against any type of discrimination on the basis of gender identity, sexual orientation, ethnicity, income, social status, race, caste, creed, color, physical appearance, disability or any other feature.

It also provides a method of properly addressing bona fide concerns that individuals or groups within or outside of organization might have.

Hari Welfare Association's management shall appoint a designated Safeguarding Focal Point and publicize his/her name for recording / investigation or complaints / concerns etc.

Hari Welfare Association's management shall formulate a designated Safeguarding Committee for follow up, redressals and risk management and assessments etc.

Fundamental Elements of the Policy:

Any harmful incident may be reported, highlighted or noticed by any concerned person associated or connected with the organization as defined above

Hari Welfare Association requires the concerned person(s) to identify themselves by providing their name, CNIC number and phone number for follow up and support.

The concerned person or whistleblower shall be protected from victimization, harassment or disciplinary action as a result of reporting; where the report is made in good faith and is not made maliciously or for other unjustified reasons.

Reported matters shall be investigated fully and formally including interviews with all the witnesses and other parties involved. The identity of the concerned person shall be held confidential at all stages by the Safeguarding Committee.
